

You

Próxima Parada

Where did all your dreams go tonight?
We all know when you don't feel alright
Your personality does not need rearranging
The best portrayal of yourself is what the stage needs
'Cause when it's really you
There's no wrong move

When it's really you

People flying 'round the world looking to grow
Well right here in the dirt is where you flourish most
This very moment is more than adequate
Even if that means feeling sad and shit
When it's really you
There's no wrong move

When it's really you

I want you to do you
