Why did you come to me?
What did you think I could give you?
You put your hope in my hands

We're making something out of nothing
Just the sun, the sun and the light

If I could choose, if I could choose
Then we would make what's in our minds

How did you know? How did you know?
That I was waiting all of this time

The way you go and go
The way you're going
The way you're going you won't come back

The way you go and go
The way you're going
The way you're going you won't come back

I'm lying at the edge of this
I thought that I would fall

You put me on the ground

There is a pattern, we can follow
Holding on to all that we found

If I could choose, if I could choose
Then we would make what's in our minds

How did you know? How did you know?
That I was waiting all of this time

The way you go and go
The way you're going
The way you're going you won't come back

The way you go and go
The way you're going
The way you're going you won't come back

The way you go and go
The way you're going
The way you're going you won't come back
