

Defenseless

Psyche

On the path that you have tread
Where others try to follow
When the ravens fly within your grasp
The images of yesterday will tell the truth again
No one can escape the pain of knowing how it ends

You rendered me defenseless
Images held out for ransom
You rendered me defenseless
When I needed your protection

All the weapons that you choose
And the fortresses you've built
Is no security inside your mind
When logic seems to fail
Keep the secrets to no avail

You rendered me defenseless
Images held out for ransom
You rendered me defenseless
When I needed your protection

Oblivious behind these walls
No structure can remain forever
Forever

You rendered me defenseless
Images held out for ransom
You rendered me defenseless
When I needed your protection

And the games that we have played
We knew the rules so well
Every battle that we chose
Broken by entanglements
Stand above it all
Til the figures fall again
