

Justice And Damnation

Psyche

Fighting on the line
Between justice an damnation

And they believed for centuries
But we'll never know
If it was meant to be
How does it show?

Fighting on the line
Between justice an damnation

Will the fire never stop
How can anyone die
For another's foolish thoughts?
When you breathe your last breath
Must the rage still linger on?

Belief can make you strong
Belief can give you something
But not without love
You only breed contempt
Belief can make you strong
Belief can give you something
Just to carry on
This is not love
When you only breed contempt
Why must the rage still linger on?
Fooling ourselves again
