

Found God In A Tomato

Psychedelic Porn Crumpets

I'm barely operating
Yet a functional being
I always seemed to be vacant
Parading myself as an abductee

Then one day I was transposed
From a simple young man
To a godly tomato that held all existence
And told me that we should expand

And now the world will always revolve
Around me
(I'll wake up and I'll always be fine)
Now I know
(Everything always will be easy)
And the way I like
(I'm grateful that I held that tomato)
So, it could change my life
'Cause I'm different
At least I thought so

What a triumphant occasion
How to change your design
Oh, that one thought has left my head on a pillow
On my cloud nine
I wonder how many more fruits
Can connect to my head
I would take a papaya
Travel the world and the universe as two best friends

And now the world will always revolve
Around me
(I'll wake up and I'll always be fine)
Now I know
(Everything always will be easy)
And the way I like
(I'm grateful that I held that tomato)
So, it could change my life
'Cause I'm different
At least I thought so

I've found it gets harder every
Time, I count backwards in my head
Time, I'm coming back with
Time, I'm coming back with
Time, I'm not here

I'm coming back with
I'm coming back with
I'm coming back with
All my life
All my life

And now the world will always revolve
Around me
(I'll wake up and I'll always be fine)
Now I know

(Everything always will be easy)
And the way I like
(I'm grateful that I held that tomato)
So, it could change my life
'Cause I'm different
At least I thought so
