

Enslavement

Psycroptic

Our torment unending
The guilt we feel consuming
This way cannot be sustained
Fires have been burning too long

We look for guidance—yet it is all around
Always taking the easy path
The convenient path

Enslaving ourselves in the process
Forever blaming higher powers

Never looking to ourselves for solutions
What end will become of us

Spending our whole lives informed
Always choosing to turn a blind eye

Always waiting for someone else to solve our problems
Always pointing the finger of blame towards another

Enslaving ourselves in the process
Forever blaming higher powers

Never looking to ourselves for solutions
What end will become of us

Spending our whole lives informed
Always choosing to turn a blind eye
This one won't go away
Burying our heads won't solve a thing
Future generations will look down on us in shame