Psycroptic

Our world is torn
Locked in our prisons
Uncertainty of this new life
No end in sight

Involuntarily created by us
Servitude and ignorance we spoke of
Yet actions were silent
A life beyond our means

Sustainable future just a dream
We forfeited our right to survive

Why did we ignore the signs
Blinded by what we thought we need
Constant need to rebuild not repair
Always blindly following

Time for man's rule to end
Our future is set in stone
A task that always felt too great
Justifying what we knew to be wrong

Sustainable future just a dream
We forfeited our right to survive

Why did we ignore the signs
Blinded by what we thought we need
Constant need to rebuild not repair
Always blindly following

Seeking refuge behind closed doors
The masses tremble in fear
From this new world we have created
Our future is now here
