

You Belong Here, Below

Psycroptic

A never-ending quest to find new meaning
The chambers cease to exist
Blood-drenched, that old familiar feeling
Why a fast descent-like salt poured into wounds
The furnace of hate grows
Too many boundaries have been crossed

Captive to our own minds
Seeking sanctuary
Choices can't be taken lightly
Enlightened no more

Torn between
These two worlds
The darkness embraces
It calls to me
You belong here below

Forever to walk alone in fear
Can't find joy in solitude
No meaningless embrace
Once held everything so close
Now it seems so much wasted time
In the end all turns to ash

Captive to our own minds
Seeking sanctuary
Choices can't be taken lightly
Enlightened no more

Torn between
These two worlds
The darkness embraces
It calls to me
You belong here below

A whispering
Final call
At the gate
All shall fall
