

Align the Planets

Pulley

He spent all his years in fear
Now that the time is near
He reaches out for us
Know your time was out of sight
It's time for a new life
We can help you, boy
We must align the planets first

What kind of universe are you living in?
The kind of universe where demons take control
Of every choice you make
Why do you think they brought you there?
They knew the trauma from my past
Would always keep me moving slower than the rest

He spent all his years in fear
With his time drawing near
He reaches out for us
I know your time was out of sight
It's time for a new life
We can help you, boy
But we must align the planets first

Just so you know, there's more of the same here
Then I'll feel right at home
And never felt so far away again
So what will it take to get you out of there?
I'll send a signal via kicking
And screaming frequency radio wave

He spent all his years in fear
With his time drawing near
He reaches out for us
I know your time was out of sight
It's time for a new life
We can help you, boy
But we must align the planets first

What's taking you so long? I'm just about to break
Don't worry, son, we're only light years away
Anxiety is killing me, you better make it quick
5 4 3 2 1 blast off

He spent all his years in fear
With his time drawing near
He reaches out for us
I know your time was out of sight
It's time for a new life
We can help you, boy
But we must align the planets
Align the planets first
