

Northbound

Pulley

Carry, carry me across
Borders without boundaries no stop signs
Can I, can I hold onto
A future with a past that's not so bright

I'm rising up, moving south
With that northbound state of mind
This old heart I hope beats one more time

Recovery, recover me
Collecting all the evidence at the scene
Invest in, investigate
How long till a Sherlock finds his Holmes

I'm rising up, moving south
With that northbound state of mind
This old heart I hope beats one more time
I'm rising up, moving ahead
With that positive state of mind
This old heart I hope beats one last time
You've gotta break me down
Before I rise back up

If this old heart beats one last time
Will the sun come out again
If this old heart beats one last time
Will the sun come out again
If this old heart beats one last time
Will the sun come out again
