

Wake Up

Pulley

Have you ever considered
A different version of yourself
One that walks through heaven
And not through hell

And all of your demons
Undercover infiltrate
Keeping you in the distance
Are you ready to live again?

I'm a man with a heart for few
'Cause walls up all around
Tied up tightly wound

Now you found your road
Harness every mile ahead
Leading you to wisdom
Making you whole again

I'm a man with a heart for few
These walls up all around
Tied up tightly wound
That old flame burned out long ago
Maybe I should wake up
And reignite the light

Keep your pride in a safe
Combination erased
Will you ever walk away?

I'm a man with a heart for few
These walls up all around
Tied up tightly wound
That old flame burned out long ago
Maybe I should wake up
And reignite the light
Maybe I should wake up
And reignite the light
