Everything I Wanted

Punchline

I'm gonna take you to Nakama
Our love's in bloom just like Nirvana
Then we'll do 80s karaoke
I'm Phil Collins, you're Madonna

You are the strangest girl I've ever known
Nobody else still uses pay phones
You're on my cloud just like The Rolling Stones
But I would never kick you off
And plus, we like The Beatles

You're everything I wanted
I'm everything you need
You're out of your mind
And I can't get you out of mine
Your Zelda tattoo was the first sign
You're everything I wanted

You write me in at the elections
You've got a unicorn collection
And when we're chatting on computers
I feel the internet connection
She thinks it's cool that I am able
To run an indie record label
She's got me smiling at the table
When she's says
"Pass the sweet potatoes"
("Here you go")

You're everything I wanted
I'm everything you need
You're out of your mind
And I can't get you out of mine
You know all the word to The Decline
You're everything I wanted

You are everything I wanted
I am everything you need
You're out of your mind
And I can't get you out of mine
You read Popular Science in your free time
You're everything I wanted

This is new and wrapped in plastic
I like your Dr. Pepper chopstick
And I remind you every morning
That you're gorgeously fantastic
