

Open Up

Punchline

Hey, you've got me again in this room.
Too young to die now, so confused.

Open up and say "ah" and get what's coming to "ya."
Tonight's the night I'll show you what I think is right.

When it's over then you'll wish that you had waited.
If you waited, would it be much different now?
Is it real or is it just imagination?
You want to find the truth but don't know how.

Hey, you've got me.

Would it make much of a difference?
Would you even really care?
You never made a difference.
I never really cared.

When it's over then you'll wish that you had waited.
If you waited, would it be much different now?
Is it real or is it just imagination?
You want to find the truth but don't know how.
Will you wake up to me?
Will you wake up to me?
Wake up to me,
Wake up to me,
Wake up to me,
Wake up to me,
Wake.
