

Tunnel Vision

Punchline

I'll never do it again, at least until next time
Seems like what you want is a literal piece of my mind
I've got tunnel vision, got my eye on the prize
When you know what you want but you're petrified

The clock strikes ten, I want you here
I'm going to sleep early, my dear
This time tomorrow you should be here
Right next to me, you're home

All I really want is you
And everything else is going to
Fall into place
All I really want is you
Make no mistake
Say I'm qualified

Yeah I've got tunnel vision
But do you know where I'm from
You're coming out that mountain
Just like a BB gun
And it will never come true
But we all want more time
Before the meter runs out the ride

The clock strikes ten, I want you here
I'm going to sleep early, my dear
This time tomorrow you should be here
Right next to me, you're home

Come on and tell me

All I really want is you
And everything else is going to
Fall into place
All I really want is you
Make no mistake
Say I'm, say I'm...
On and on and on and on
And everybody sings the same old song
To rule the world, you fall in love
Make no mistake
Say I'm qualified

You're the one
You're the one I want
To see
I'm falling even further from your face
But today

All I really want
All I really want

All I really want is you
And everything else is going to
Fall into place
All I really want is you

Make no mistake
Say I'm, say I'm...
On and on and on and on
And everybody sings the same old song
To rule the world you fall in love
Make no mistake
I know I'm qualified