

Edmonton

PUP

That night in Edmonton with all of my friends
Singing songs about killing them
While your body was still warm in the ground
And I was up onstage just fucking around

It didn't hit me till after
Guilt piling up to the rafters
And I drunkenly leaned on the urinal
Thinking how I'd missed too many birthdays
And a couple of funerals