

Apogee / Requiem For The Lovers

Pure Reason Revolution

I've gone too far, she's the apogee of my love... I've gone too far?... She's the apogee...
Appaled her heart, be the apogee of my love?
I've fallen God from the apogee...

I'm filled with violent woe
I'm filled with complex woe but still breathing

All I want is you, decide your lust...
And all eyes drawn to you, consumed and numb...
All I want is you; the kiss turns the curse...
And all eyes drawn to you... and innocence numbed...
I won't deny, all I want, hold on please, I believe

It took flesh to the bone, would have severed these limbs, I dispossess all, all She lies with her clone, must be riddled with sin, I was never enough, no
Dissever this trust, erase all the guilt... breathe and dying in one God
Our nexus in stone, but infected with filth... I dispossess all your love

Have I gone too far?
Did I go too far?
Did it pulse your heart? Be the apogee of my love
Do our burnt, dead hearts... feel no apathy?

I'm filled with violent woe
It kills the complex woe, still breathing
We brace our hearts & breathe out

You raise hell in me my love, no I won't lay this down,
I hope there's a taste for you
You raised hell...

Yeah I pulled dead hearts; yeah I pulled dead hearts
from the apogee...
Yeah I pulled dead hearts; yeah I pulled dead hearts
with no after bleeds...

A slow and painful death? Or a very peaceful rest?
You're the apogee of my love...
With cold heart emotion it's so hard to believe you;
I'll fade out and burn in your love
