

New Kind of Evil

Pure Reason Revolution

You're born to heal, my love
A swarm to kill and cull
You're all I need at core
You're more to me than God

Come naked, don't lie
You kiss, pull recover and then we crooked dovetail
You make it so hard
It's bliss 'til we shudder and then we feel the love fade

She screams go!
Can we make it alive?
Can we make it turn?
She rips wild to extreme
The attack penetrating

Don't go today, God I need her
Don't show a trace, so adored
Don't run away or believe her
Don't show the strain, it's only war

And tidal waves spin
New kind of evil burns here
You cut into my life again
New kind of evil burns here

And tidal waves spin
New kind of evil burns here
You cut into my life again
New kind of evil burns here

Can I leave morning? No I run to her
You murder me scorning, now the screams come
It shatters me crawling, on a vicious run
Now prayers and pleas warning, God I need some love

Come angel, so high
You kiss, pull recover and then we crooked dovetail
Come lay here, so calm
You glisten in shadow and then we feel the love fade

She keeps eyes on me
Traipse to the knife
Tears serrated, turn
She spits wild, now we hasten
Attack and forsake her

Don't go today, God I need her
Don't show a trace, so adored
Don't turn away or deceive her
Don't stock the pain, or remorse

As tidal waves spin
New kind of evil burns here
You cut into my life and bend
New kind of evil

New kind of evil
New kind of evil burns here
New kind of evil
New kind of evil

Bare!

And tidal waves spin
New kind of evil burns here
You cut into my life again

And tidal waves spin
New kind of evil burns here
You cut into my life again
New kind of evil burns here

New kind of evil
New kind of evil burns here
New kind of evil
New kind of evil
