

Planet Helpless

Puressence

Found a little piece of nothing And I moved on Because even nothing feels like something When something's gone

Summertime, on the planet helpless You gotta help yourself Go on and scarlet necklace

Say what you mean, and mean what you say Say what you feel, and feel what you say

Found the head of a marble angel Down Sadness Glade For the sins of our long gone forefathers I've surely paid

You're eyes are blue Just like minted china Keep doing what you do And you'll be none the wiser

Say what you mean, mean what you say Say what you feel, feel what you say
