

I couldn't see over your back
Your skin was racked
With season to swallow
You are my almanac, oh
Make me grow

Push me out from the land
I'll lick the salt off of your hands
Swim over bodies that fell
Open my eyes to nothing but you

The changing sea
The universe meets
To swallow me

I climbed a mountain
Up your spine I climbed inside your mind
Up to your eyes to make you blind
To make you mine
You are my almanac, oh

Push me out from the land
I'll lick the salt off of your hands
Swim over bodies that fell
Open my eyes to nothing but you

The changing sea
