

between you and shadows

Purity Ring

Grey as the sky, falls over the meadow
Blue as the lake, beneath you, the wind blows
Cold as air between you and shadows
How did you get here? How did you not know?
How did you not know?

Come now, my kin, to the rivers that bend
And weave through the land 'round my spine like a thread
Twisted up like your mind 'round my soft spitting image
It's suddenly clear where you end and I begin
It's suddenly clear where you end and I begin

If you would see me now, you'd know what's come to be
No one remembers how I'm always trying to leave
Just leave me bleeding out, I'm flowing toward the sea
Toward the sea
Toward the place I've embodied

You can't say it out loud, it's on the tip of your tongue
So I'll stay here a while, you and me just pretending
As your eyes glaze o'er, I'll be searching inside
For what I knew you to be, it's not like you knew me
It's not like you knew me

Come to be
Trying to leave
Toward the sea
I've embodied

If you would see me now, you'd know what's come to be
No one remembers how I'm always trying to leave
Just leave me bleeding out, I'm flowing toward the sea
Toward the sea
Toward the place I've embodied

Toward the sea
