

Wake up, wake up
You been talking now for hours
You still can't say it to my face
But I know you now
For all I am
I'll never know what you can't see
I'm just a body, holding water, making heat
Here, there is something in the air
That never leaves
A thing I make
No one can touch all that I breathe

I wanna feel this
For the rest of my life
I am an ocean
Where the tears fall from the sky
I wanna stay here
'Til the morning sunrise
I am a shadow
There's nothing left for me to hide

Slow down, slow down
You been running out of breath
So sure without me
That you know how this will end
No way to live
But the leaving-behind
The scent of trees, the sound of blood
My humming mind
Now, as the wind comes and goes
Blowing through me
I am here, though
Yet again, I've never been

I wanna feel this (feel this)
For the rest of my life
I am an ocean
(I am an ocean)
Where the tears fall from the sky
I wanna stay here (stay here)
'Til the morning sunrise
I am a shadow
(I am a shadow)

Don't you forget about, forget about
Don't you forget about, forget about me
Don't you forget about, forget about
Don't you
(I'm just a body, holding water, making heat)
Don't you forget about, forget about
Don't you forget about, forget about me
Don't you forget about, forget about
(I'm just a body, holding water)

I wanna feel this (feel this)
For the rest of my life

I am an ocean
(I am an ocean)
Where the tears fall from the sky
I wanna stay here (stay here)
'Til the morning sunrise
I am a shadow
(I am a shadow)
