

Give me just a moment
Or get me and up out of here, I swear
It's like some kind of monument
Bestowed upon the creatures of my fear

(And I could never get close enough to you)
Ten feet down, the light broke through
And I could never get close enough to you

It feels like a ghost town in here
The clicking of the rocks fall and where
Beholden to the dust that adheres
I'm a layer of stillness and I'll cover your ears

By the skin of your knuckles, we made everything new
By the skin of your tongue, our comfort will undo

Give me just a moment
A breath is just an opening of pace
Wanna be the surface
I wanna be the edges where it breaks

Feels like a ghost town in here
The clicking of the rocks fall and where
Beholden to the dust that adheres
I'm a layer of stillness and I'll cover your ears

It feels like a ghost town in here
The clicking of the rocks fall and where
Beholden to the dust that adheres
I'm a layer of stillness and I'll cover your ears

Ten feet down, the light broke through
And I could never get close enough to you

And I could never get close enough to you
(Ten feet down) And I could never get close enough
And I could never get close enough to you
