

Potions

Puscifer

Someone sang your name today
And a stranger saw me crumble
Haul my
Broken heart and shell away
Beggin', bury me beside you

The devil popped around today
Sellin' promises and potions
That could
Take a memory away
Help forget I'd ever met you

Tell me
Can't you please
Kindly take away the misery?
Give me
A baker's dozen please
Wrap me up to go away

But I want you
I need to
Forget you
Don't want to
But I need to let you go

The devil bent my ear today
About his magical elixir
That would
Make the sorrow go away
Help me forget I'd ever met you

Give me
A baker's dozen please
Wrap me up to go away

I want you
I need to
Forget you
Don't want to
But I need to let you go