

Kids' Table

PWR BTTM

I took a bite of my everything bagel
With cream cheese, tomato, red onion, and lox Got on a train at a station Got off in the city and walked a few blocks Went to a room where a woman with Joy in her name shot my face with a light
A light so intense and specific it burned up the hairs and they fell out tonight

I'm starting to move more like a fish in the sea than a train o n a track
Glued to my seat from the kid's table
I'm learning to walk with a chair on my back

I took a selfie with God and they told me they get kind of lone ly on top of the sky But when I said, "Come by for dinner," they vanished at once an d they never said why

I'm starting to move more like a fish in the sea than a train o
n a track
Glued to my seat from the kid's table
I'm learning to walk with a chair on my back

I'm starting to move more like a fish in the sea than a train o
n a track
Glued to my seat from the kid's table
With a chair on my back