

A Dream I Can't Remember (Interlude)

Quadeca

Nowhere left to run
Looking in your eyes like the sun
Wondering if you gone be the one
(Wondering if you gone be the one, the one)

Yeah, yeah, I'm a murderer of memories
Tryna turn life to a dream I can't remember please
Tryna turn life to a dream I can't remember
But I hope they don't forget me
Ohhhh
I just took another
I just took another one
Oooo
I just did like two
I just took another few

I'm tryna turn my life into dream that fades deep in the mist
Till I don't know if it even exists
Personality been evenly split
I feel a deeper abyss
That adds a constant gravity to my feelings of bliss
And the harder I run that's the closer they get They're still following me up and over the steps
Frozen and met with words that can't get over my chest
But this heart still beats despite how broken it gets

I'ma tell you how I feel all along
All the monsters in my dreams
They were real all along
They were real
Despite everything you told me they were real yeah
Yeah

Looking in your eyes like the sun
Wondering if you gone be the one
Wondering if you gone be the one, the one

Yeah, I'm a murderer of memories
Tryna turn life to a dream I can't remember please
Tryna turn life to a dream I can't remember
But I hope they don't forget me
