

Opposite side on a bed
Could you imagine
If we'd known a decade ago?
You showed up
At the most confusing time
But I'm playing tricks on myself
If my hands weren't slow
I'd grab you
And I'd mumble a few words

Will you say something different?
Would you get them riled up?

This crazy thing
It happened to me
I wish I could tell you
Just what it is

Will you say something different?
Would you get them riled up?
Will you say something different?
Would you get them riled up?

I feel I'm split apart
Maybe I should've kept your card
I could've gone mad
It's not just me, it's not just me

Will you say something different?
Would you get them riled up?
