

Without You

Quarterflash

Another morning and it is still the same
I wake up tired but I can't sleep
The sun is shining
But it feels like rain
Without you
Without you
The sun is just weird
Without you
Day's a blur
Nights are long without you
I see your woman on the morning train
She has your mouth
She has your eyes
She sees me staring and I walk away
Without you
It's weird
Without you
The sky has disappeared
Without you
Day's a blur
Nights are long without you
Since you went away, the world has changed
I watch the strangers pass me by by
People seem so far away
These days are hard to get through
These days without you

Moon has broken on the streets below
A page is missing at your seat?
The rain is falling and the river cries
Without you
Without you
The sky has disappeared
Without you
Day's a blur
Nights are long
Baby without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
Without you
