

I admit I've been out step
Stepping often backwards to things I should forget
Forging paths that confuse and leave me stranded
I asked the God in me for a light force angel
A sterling silver lining and fingers through my hair
Past whatever solitude I was meant for regardless
Folding and unfolding feelings unfamiliar
Day by day, dreams form
And windows open for the breeze to breathe occasional kisses on my spine
Bliss when I float within the friction
A comfort I've experienced with no one
I cast spells in my mirror, more love
Fingertips cling to lips stained with a soft voice
A healing reminder, my favorite flavor
Something like music to my ears
Now I find myself singing when I wake up

I'll be
Singin' 'til I'm sleeping
All up in your dreams, B
Or are you wide awake? (Wide awake)
Lucid
Travels to the moon and
Sinkin' through the womb and
Being born again (Born again, yeah)

Hold up, I will break your little fall
You can just hang on, I'll be the cure
You won't have to worry anymore
Hold on to me, it won't be long with me

Blue skies
Twinkle in the night time
Lightning through the clouds, I'm Being born again (Born again)
Lucid
Don't know how I do it
Suddenly, I'm flyin'
Being born again

Hold up, I will break your little fall
You can just hang on, I'll be the cure, oh
You won't have to worry anymore
Hold on to me, it won't be long with me

One night
It could last a lifetime
Suddenly you're alright
'Cause you're one again
Lucid
Travels to the moon and
Sinkin' through the womb and
Being born again
Dreamgirl
In a little dream world
Caught up in the daylight
But when the lights go low
