

THE BEGINNING

QUIÑ

Boy, It's time to enter the consciousness
That grants you the promised land from where you began
Boy I know, It's time to enter the consciousness
That's granted your every wish since when you began
Boy I [?], It's time to enter the consciousness
That grants you the promised land from where you began
Boy, It's time to enter the consciousness
That's granted your every wish since when you began

I'm on earth
But I'm lonely
I'm slowly
Dissolving
In your world
Cause is my world is so far away
To find my way I'd do anything
Yes it's true
I come out when it's blue
When the sun is all gone
And the gloom is all I ask of you
I hope the weather gets better soon

Boy, It's time to enter the consciousness
That grants you the promised land from where you began
Boy I know, It's time to enter the consciousness
That's granted your every wish since when you began
Boy [?], It's time to enter the consciousness
That grants you the promised land from where you began
Boy, It's time to enter the consciousness
That's granted your every wish since when you began

I've got to
Break away
From the tomb
Cause I'm quickly
Evolving
In all
That I have come to do
So confined's been what's blinding you
I know you know, where I'm coming from
You know, like, like when you're far from home
Wiped my mind, from the other life
And oh, you're hard to find, but I got you from the other side

Boy, It's time to enter the consciousness
That grants you the promised land from where you began
Boy I know, It's time to enter the consciousness
That's granted your every wish since when you began
