

Depicting Colours Of Emotions

Quidam

Follow my dreams
Don't cover my devotion
It's getting dark, it's high time to say everything
The truth will come out but I fool myself
She was sweet eighteen crying in my bed
You know it's hard to explain how I need you now
I remember rush of emotions in the moonlit night

Don't look back at the ghosts behind me
I carry love on my shoulders
Don't look back 'cos I'm so alone

So many times I've been searching for us
Now close your eyes, I'll find you in my dreams
Then I survive, I survive

I have to be strong, the past is coming back to my mind
Can't let you in again, I was dying so many times
Inside

Don't look back at the ghosts behind me
Don't look back where all the demons surround me
Don't look back 'cos I'm so alone

Warm me with your arms, bless me
With your lips once again, bless me
The passion of you, passion
I can't forget one mistake, passion
Many years have passed since that winter night
Now close your eyes and try to forgive just one mistake
