

Crazy Train

Quimby

Welcome aboard the crazy train

Welcome aboard the crazy train

You'd better wake up, before you end up

Somewhere on insanity lane

So welcome aboard the crazy train

The earth and the arms growing rustic tracks

Where the jungle freak show, it never rests

Hey buddy what's up, you'd better shake up

Your brain in that sparklin' drain

So how do you feel on the crazy train?

So plunge under the surface

Meet the mystical

Strange creatures in luminary moods

Take part in the circus

Catch what's magical

And it's all ruled by the moon

So, ladies and gents please let the passengers out first

And enter the world's greatest silver capsule

We're gonna pass Columbus' dreams

The John Doe thing, and Robinson Coast

We're gonna stop for a shot at Times Spare

Continuing on to Lexington brand new

The 42nd Scream

And the Brooklyn Bitch

We'll take a look at the Vampire Waste Building

And of course at Jerry's boat

To finally reach the World Break Center

While listening to Washington Swear

Step all the way in, stay clear of the closing doors!
