

Open the mirror, what do you see?
A shimmer of you and a glimmer of me
Slippers slip down silver streets
Magic moments lilting free
Ahh

The truth catches up to you
You'll hide, but you always knew
You'll shine when it's finally true
I'll try to be satisfied
Just knowing you're somewhere alive
Touch the glass and ripple me
I'll settle for the symmetry, baby
I'll settle for the symmetry, baby

You'll remember when we meet
We aged back to kids on the beach
You would bury jellyfish
I'd throw them back and make a wish
Ahh

The truth catches up to you
You'll hide, but you always knew
You'll shine when it's finally true
I'll try to be satisfied
Just knowing you're somewhere alive
Touch the glass and ripple me
I'll settle for the symmetry

I'll try to be satisfied
Just knowing you're somewhere alive
Touch the glass and ripple me
I'll settle for the symmetry, baby
Touch the glass and ripple me
I'll settle for the symmetry, baby
