Let It Lie

Ra

Have you ever heard the parable of everything
Listen to the word as if it answers anything
Running through a maze that doesn't have a way back home

Faces in the air look down at all the emptiness
How can it be fair while justifying all of this
Tear apart the old ways stare into the great unknown

Stop
I just see what you show me
And I know what you told me
But it's not how you made it seem
Cuz every time

Someone's gotta brace you
Save you
Give you a reason to live
When the sky is calling
Falling
Living with nothing to give
You might as well let it lie
You might as well let it lie
Cuz luv ain't do or die
You might as well let it lie
The truth don't wanna stay

Poison in your system isn't gonna disappear
Calculate the risk but always sucked into the fear
Maybe you should try to separate from all the noise

Crazy little voices sing the devil's interval
You think it's a choice but something makes you miserable
Slowly drained away your ability to rejoice

Stop
I just see what you show me
And I know what you told me
But it's not how you made it seem
Cuz every time

Someone's gotta brace you
Save you
Give you a reason to live
When the sky is calling
Falling
Living with nothing to give
You might as well let it lie
You might as well let it lie
Cuz luv ain't do or die
You might as well let it lie
The truth don't wanna stay

When you walk thru life
You can see if you choose to see
If you hold a knife to the world
It'll always be
Your enemy

Your enemy
It will always be
Your enemy
Cuz you don't see

Stop
And I know what you told me
But it's not how you made it seem
Cuz every time

Someone's gotta brace you
Save you
Give you a reason to live
Falling
You might as well let it lie
You might as well let it lie
You might as well let it lie
