

LIES

Ra

Do you want to play
Do you want to lie
I will make you honest
Yeah, I will make u honest
Even if I cut your eyelids
Open in the light
You would fake the darkness
To hide that you are heartless

And since you're buried under all that fear
You stay a victim
Another coward's tale
And when I tear apart your false disguise
You'll feel the terror
As you burn for all your lies

Try and hold it up
What you think you are
No one here believes you
No, no one here believes you
Like every single photoshopped
Illusion in your mind
That's how no one sees you
Now no one needs you

Without the shield of someone's stolen trust
You're just a beggar
Another waste of pride
And when your statue cracks and turns to dust
You'll feel the fire
As you burn for all your lies

Write down all the words you've poisoned
And all of the names of those you scarred
Run from all the love you voided
Till anything real is thrown away

In a moment's time
You will wrythe in pain
From your own deception
As I break you of your lies...
