

Guilty

Racoon

Don't ever look down
On a broken man
Pulls himself up the best he can
Never to reopen the worthless door
Not the way he's done before
And then they all stood to see
They lit the fire
To burn in front of me
The broken man
Must hang down from the tree
And all because they say he's

Guilty, guilty
Oh ladies let me be
Please don't judge me
Don't let me hang
Down from a tree, no

Guilty, guilty
Oh lady let me be
Guilty, guilty
I'm as guilty as can be

All the ladies should have cried
So let them hold
Their tears and lies
Guilty as liars plead,
Spreading rumors about me
The bravest fools around,
You see
Are the ones neglecting
What they feel
Live to the fullest,
Take what you need to steal
The only thing so real

Guilty, guilty
Oh lady let me be
Please don't judge me
Don't let me hang
Down from a tree, no
Guilty, guilty
Oh ladies let me be
Guilty, guilty
I'm as guilty as can be

Oh
Ladies let me live a little

I need to know
A little I can live
I can live,
I can live,
I can live,

So never look down
On a broken man

Pulls himself up
The best he can
Never to reopen the worthless door
It's not the way,
You know,
You know you're

Guilty, guilty
Sometimes we need to be
Guilty, guilty
Don't let me hang
Down from a tree, no
Guilty, guilty
Sometimes I feel the urge to be
Please don't judge me
Don't let me hang
Down from a tree, no

Guilty, guilty
Guilty, guilty
Guilty, guilty
Guilty, guilty

Oh
Guilty, guilty
Guilty, guilty
Guilty, guilty
Guilty, guilty
