

Under The Same Sun

Radical Face

Stopped time, the time has stopped and all the earth stands still

And all our plans are just feathers in the breeze
And I fall asleep in the backseat of your old car
Outside, the gods fall to their knees

When I said I'd live a life that was a different one
I meant a different one, not always picking up the pieces
Of a former one, I thought I'd find a different world
Under a different sun, but there's no different sun
Yeah, there is only one, so now I sit
In silence as it warms my skin
And I don't need to plan, or even know where we are
'Cause it's all the same sun

I'm looking out the window at a different road
Is it a different road? If I always take it with me
And don't let it go? I need to let it go, until I let it go
It makes every road I travel down the same
This might all feel like we're stumbling in the dark
But it's all under the same sun

But it's all under the same sun
But it's all under the same sun
But it's all under the same sun
