

Sky Is Born

Radical Something

In that morning haze underneath that willow tree
It's getting warm
Another lazy day just praying for no rain
And then the sky is born
The sky is born
Get on up, get on up
Get on up, get on up
The sky is born
Get on up, get on up
Get on up yeah
The sky is born

Man, take a chance to look up
Cuz nowadays our days are always booked up
I wanna breathe, I wanna find something to be
I wanna make myself a person that my children can see
Stayed on the right path
Cuz for my family and me
To live a healthy life I gotta travel these streets
But it's okay, yeah, because I know along the way
I'll forget about tomorrow and fall in love with today

In that morning haze underneath that willow tree
It's getting warm
Another lazy day just praying for no rain
And then the sky is born
The sky is born
Get on up, get on up
Get on up, get on up
The sky is born
Get on up, get on up
Get on up yeah
The sky is born

I think we should discover mother earth
Cuz these billboards and touch screens compromise our worth
Look around
In every city every town
So much history's embedded in the ground
So many shades of life have lasted on it
So many chains in time have passed upon it
So many times I feel that we have the right idea
But things will only get to change if we can act upon it

Step outside and I know sometimes it can be a struggle
And your roots, hold 'em strong, and remember where you come from
Step outside and I know sometimes it can be a struggle
And your roots, hold 'em strong, and remember where you come from

In that morning haze underneath that willow tree
It's getting warm
And then the sky is born
The sky is born
Get on up, get on up
Get on up, get on up
The sky is born

Get on up, get on up
Get on up yeah
