Everything I Should Have Said

Radney Foster

It was more my fault than yours
I can say that now for sure
What I held back, while the poison spread
Was everything I should have said

Well, I should'a told you the truth
Before the damage done
We were in trouble, long before I fled
With everything I should have said

Everything I should have said
I'm sorry I hurt you
Made you feel abandoned
Robbed you of your dreams
So I could steal mine
I'm not asking for forgiveness
Time heals but it don't forget
Everything I should have said

Is it too late to say it now
We're both better off somehow
My love for you was never a lie
I just didn't know what to do when it died

Everything I should have said
I'm sorry I hurt you
Made you feel abandoned
Robbed you of your dreams
So I could steal mine
I'm not asking for forgiveness
Time heals but it don't forget

Everything I should have said
I still haven't told you yet
Everything I should have said
Still haven't told you yet
Everything I should have said

It was more my fault than yours
