It's okay to just pretend to understand each other, after all we're Alice an d Telece

But then why, and how, and for what reason are you Archimedes again today?

If there has to be a reason to tangle together and mag each other I'll let go and run barefooted to find one for us

So I'm gonna sing this harmony cuz I'm mystic don't wanna scammony Does anybody really wanna follow me? McCartney leads 'Let it Be'

Now open up your mind and be retarded like this is your final Chance to have your dirty spermies out out

You were there at loneliness' side, and I was there beside sadness Loneliness and sadness joined hands and brought us together

We should walk together as four, walk together holding hands Because look, it's more lively and fun than just one or two

You say I'm dear to you, but what part of me are you indicating? What makes me, me? Tell me

For example

If my face was torn in half, my arm into two or three, my eye into five part ${\bf s}$

If my brain was replaced with my neighbor's, my voice with an alien's, that part with a carrot

If I changed like that, would you still be able to call me, me? What part has to remain for me to be me?

I'll chase after you again today to make sure of your feelings I know I won't get through to you, and that's why I cried that time

But if you're hiding somewhere inside those words Force the points together, and like a constellation Let me feel like I understand the shape of your heart

Even if I'm told Pegasus, Pavo, Orion, I still don't understand Virgo, Taurus, Capricorn, Circinus, I can't see any of them "That's the hand of a clock" - no matter how I look, it's useless And if I'm told that's one of the Gemini twins, I've already given up...
