Change Your Mind

Raf

Change your mind
changing time
lonely baby

Take today Valentine
leave me now.
When your dreams make you doubt what our story's about

When you change
when you sink in the ocean of life.

Against my will the future time could be the more sophisticated song
You say
we've got to live in synchrony

I say the rhythm's almost gone Desire tells you what to do tomorrow morning facing you.
It's time we tried to find out

this time we know we don't know.
You change your reason to be free

we'll rearrange a melody.
And then we won't remember what we said today.
Change your mind
changing time
lonely baby

Make your way
maybe I'm not around.
Caste me down into doubt what this story's about

Will you change
will you flee in the motion of life?

You say
your mind is set on leaving me nobody keeps you hanging on.

Who are you fooling by deceiving me believing rights are never wrong.

Desire turns you head around requires freedom to be found.
Can people make decisions? Don't say tonight is so long.
I fight to put your mind

at least we'll laugh away catastrophies.
And we might stay together living day by day.
I know you can find out if you just take your time

oh take your time.

Change your mind

changing time
lonely baby

Make your way
maybe I'm not around.
When your dreams make you doubt what our story's about

When you change
when you sink in the ocean of life.

Leave me blue
over you I can take it.
Feeling free over me
even now
I'll get down on my knees change your mind won't you please.
Like the leaves on the ground
all our dreams blow away.
Change your mind
change your mind
