

A Spider's Web

Rage

This world's so materialistic
Our life just makes sense when we buy
You're just a part of the statistics
When there's a red line on your bank account, your cash runs out

Half the population blinds their eyes
They pretend a credit gives them wealthiness, consume contest

Just like a spider's web
Just like a spider's web
You try to get out but it holds you tighter
Just like a spider's web
Just like a spider's web
You try to get out but it holds you tight like

All of this borrowed existences
How can they sleep in the night
They are afraid when the bell rings
They're working half their lifes to pay it back, 'till heart attack

Half the population blinds their eyes
They pretend a credit gives them wealthiness, consume contest

Just like a spider's web
Just like a spider's web
You try to get out but it holds you tighter
Just like a spider's web
Just like a spider's web
You try to get out but it holds you tight like

Half the population blinds their eyes
They pretend a credit gives them wealthiness, consume contest

Just like a spider's web
Just like a spider's web
You try to get out but it holds you tighter
Just like a spider's web
Just like a spider's web
You try to get out but it holds you tight like
