

Resurrection Day

Rage

Now is our time, we're coming back to take what's ours
Far too long we have been silent, we want justice now
We are legion and we have been overruled so long
There's no holding back, we're coming over you so strong

We're heading straight to the end
But our salvation will be heaven sent

Resurrection for the dead and gone
No more mortal decay on resurrection day
Love and honouring for the tortured, betrayed
At the end of the world it's resurrection day

When it all explodes we will have company along
Our guardian angel will be chasing one by one
Spitting all the fire that will burn out the festering wound
Coming from desire that ended much too soon

We're heading straight to the end
But our salvation will be heaven sent

Resurrection for the dead and gone
No more mortal decay on resurrection day
Love and honouring for the tortured, betrayed
At the end of the world it's resurrection day

Resurrection for the dead and gone
No more mortal decay on resurrection day
Love and honouring for the tortured, betrayed
At the end of the world it's resurrection day
It's resurrection day
