

Bleed The Same

Rag'n'Bone Man

Ain't no place I'd rather be
On a rainy day
I was walking by with my head held low
That's a world away

Just breathe before you hit the ground
Set your fears free

Come alive, come alive, come with open arms
There's a fire inside of every single one of us
We all, we all, we all bleed the same

Some days feel like an avalanche
Can't keep it off our backs
Can't see it all with a single glance
All the colours, all the lights

Just breathe before you hit the ground
Set your fears free

Come alive, come alive, come with open arms
There's a fire inside of every single one of us
We all, we all, we all bleed the same
We can fight, we can fight, we can make a start
There's a reason to believe in even broken hearts
We all, we all, we all bleed the same
Bleed the same
Bleed the same
Bleed the same

Come alive, come alive, come with open arms
There's a fire inside of every single one of us
'Cause we all, we all, we all bleed the same
We can fight, we can fight, we can make a start
There's a reason to believe in even broken hearts
We all, we all, we all bleed the same
We all bleed the same
