

Wreckage

Rag'n'Bone Man

Lights out in the basement
I might take my time before I climb out
I'll remember how it felt down here
Next time I hear the sirens calling
Out loud like a drill to my brain
Silence then it all starts again
'Cause I remember how it felt down here
Next time I won't be waiting

Oh, when we collide
It won't leave us broken, broken

I just had to fall from grace
Just to find this place
Somebody's looking down
They sent you to me
I just had to lose it all
Let my mind run cold
To stand beside you now
My rose from out the ground
Out of the wreckage, I found you

Who knows where we end up for sure
Stood in these footprints before
And now they wash away
I know we'll still be standing

Oh, when we collide
It won't leave us broken

I just had to fall from grace
Just to find this place
Somebody's looking down
They sent you to me
I just had to lose it all
Let my mind run cold
To stand beside you now
My rose from out the ground
Out of the wreckage I found you

I found you
Oh, out of the wreckage I found
Every little piece that I left behind
Every hope, every dream that crossed my mind
I found you, I found you

I just had to fall from grace
Just to find this place
Somebody's looking down
They sent you to me
I just had to lose it all
Let my mind run cold
To stand beside you now
My rose from out the ground
Out of the wreckage I found you