

Broken Pieces

Raheem DeVaughn

Baby, baby
Baby, baby (baby)

Baby, they say a man (they say a man)
Ain't supposed to cry (oh, no, no)
But I cry for (I cry for you, you)
I would even beg and plead (beg and plead, baby)
On bended knees
Not just one, but both, too
Girl, my heart would be hollow (hollow)
Ooh, hollow (hollow)
Hollow and empty without your love to fill it
Have mercy
And every word would fall on a deaf ear
Without your voice to hear
Simply saying my name
I would dread today, it'd forever hurt to sing

Don't leave (don't leave)
Let's just try (let's just try)
One more again (one more again, again, again)
If we don't, you'll leave my heart in broken pieces
I wouldn't have even a half a heart, baby
You leave my heart in broken pieces
So I pray, I pray, I pray I never had to say
Don't leave (don't leave)
Let's just try (let's just try)
One more again (one more again, babe)
'Cause if we don't, you'll leave my heart in broken pieces
I dread the day I'd have to see, baby
You leave my heart in broken pieces
(Broken pieces, broken pieces)

I would be jonesing (would be jonesing)
And fiending with withdrawal (fiending with withdrawal)
For one hit, one dose of your love
(For one hit, one dose of your love)
I'll probably drink away the pain
And smoke not to go insane (smoke not to go insane)
And plead for a duo (please baby baby, please baby baby)
I'd even pull up on your momma's house
And let your sister curse me out
And put my pride to the side (oh, to the side)
I'd ring your phone till you'd tell me to go to hell
Or send me to voicemail
I would dread the day
If you ever had to hear me say, don't

Don't leave (no no no no no)
Let's just try (let's just try)
One more again (one more again)
'Cause if we don't, you'll leave my heart in broken pieces
Oh, I dread the day I'd have to see, baby
You leave my heart in broken pieces
You leave my heart in broken pieces
If I had to say
Don't leave (don't leave)

Let's just try (let's just try)
One more again (one more again)
'Cause if we don't, you'll leave my heart in broken pieces
I dread the day you'll have to see, baby
You leave my heart in broken pieces
I dread the day, I dread the day
I never wanna see it, baby
