Sunrise

Raign

I wait for the dawning gold horizon
Stay brave in the absence of the light
Some days when the world becomes a siren
Walk away from the walls that you can't climb

If I fall so far deep down into it all
If I hit the ground, that's when I call
For you all out, that's when I call

Let me keep every sunrise from the dark
Shadows fall from the colours of my heart
Walk with me to a world where we can fly
Just to call every sunrise from the night

Time goes like a storm running from heaven
As I cry falling raindrops from the fire

If I fall so far deep down into it all
If I hit the ground, that's when I call
For you all out, that's when I call

Let me keep every sunrise from the dark
Shadows fall from the colours of my heart
Walk with me to a world where we can fly
Just to call every sunrise from the night

We're holding on to human nature
Lighting up the brand new day
So don't let go, you're not in danger
The sun will rise again

Let me keep every sunrise from the dark
Shadows fall from the colours of my heart
Walk with me to a world where we can fly
Just to call every sunrise from the night
