Release Me

Leashed against my living will to this luminous illusion, Trapped inside an incarnated dream. Always striving towards something a feeling deep inside my soul, A truth to end this neverending lie, Rebellion wit me screaming, Screaming for an ancient peace, A dark of light within the brightest dark, Not believing the eye deceiving, The untrue worlds foundation cracks, I will dissolve it all and set my spirit free.

Pain the pain of burning chains, Light driving me insane, Lies, Reflections of the dream, Mirrors blinding rays release me
