Ramirez

Fighting addiction I'm losing my grip on life (losing my grip on life)

Depression, anxiety going through it every night (going through it every night)

Battle my demons I'm honest I'm losing the fight (I'm honest I'm losing the fight)

I'm stuck in the dark but I promise there will be some light (I promise there will be some light)

Fighting addiction

I'm feeling the friction

I'm losing my mind from all these drugs I'm taking

I came from my way and I'm fighting my demons

I started my season, I cannot believe it

My hand full of blisters, I talk to myself

When my momma cries in front of me

Telling me, I'm not the son she wanted me to be

Cause' I'm hiding my feelings with drugs of the sea

When I think about life my I don't know where to go

Suicide and depression always takes a fucking toll on me

Try to fight it I'm dying and crying on the ground subsided
