

Chaos Theory

Random Eyes

Mesmorized and lost
Deep inside in the realm
Of my deception
Please wake me up
When this nightmare is over

Collapsed in my soul
Surrounded by chaos
Where is the light torch to guide
It's drowning in the rain

You're expecting miracles
When your life is more than a sign

What does it take to open your eyes?
This is everlasting, this is immortal
What does it take to open your mind?
Your life is the question

I gave my word
To stand the test of time
The past must perish
The line is drawn, no more wasted years
I feel you in the air
My world connected everywhere
Come as you are, shut your eyes and see

What does it take to open your eyes?
This is everlasting, this is immortal
What does it take to open your mind?
Your life is the question

What does it take?
