

Invisible

Random Eyes

Again I fall into your arms
Still invisible

You never left me here
In my dark despair
You never left me alone
in my darkest hour

I had all my doubts
Towards your love
and still you kept holding on

Here we are today
As real as it could be Holding hands with you
My love
Running through the days
Waiting for the time
When we can be together Completely

You're the one that know my heart
Still invisible

You never walked away
When I had gone astray
You took my life from hell
in my darkest hour

I had all my doubts
Towards your love
and still you kept
holding on
